ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO DISMISS WITH LEAVE TO AMEND; DIRECTING PLAINTIFF
TO FILE THIRD AMENDED
COMPLAINT; DENYING MOTION
FOR PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION
AND OTHER MOTION

(Docket Nos. 30, 42, 43)

Plaintiff, a California inmate, filed the instant pro se civil rights action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983, against prison officials and staff at San Quentin State Prison (“SQSP”) where he is currently incarcerated. Dkt. No. 1. The second amended complaint (“SAC”) is the operative complaint in this matter. Dkt. No. 21. The Court found the SAC, liberally construed, stated a cognizable Eighth Amendment claim and ordered service on Defendants S. Albritton, Dr. S. Garrigan, Dr. Sandler, A. Maxfield, and N. Smith. Dkt. No. 22.

Defendants filed a motion to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on the grounds that Plaintiff has failed to state a claim for relief based on his pleading and supporting papers and that they are entitled to qualified immunity. Dkt.

1 No. 30. Plaintiff filed opposition, Dkt. No. 35, and Defendants filed a reply, Dkt. No. 38.
2 Plaintiff subsequently filed another motion for preliminary injunction. Dkt. No. 42.

3 For the reasons set forth below, Defendants' motion to dismiss is GRANTED but 4 with leave to amend.

5

6 DISCUSSION

7 I. Plaintiff's Claims

8 According to the SAC, Plaintiff arrived at SQSP in July 2016, as an "ADA qualified 9 inmate/patient." Dkt. No. 21 at 5. Plaintiff suffers from "chronic lymphocytic leukemia, 10 thalassemia, and hypertension." Id. Plaintiff conferred with his oncologist, who gave a 11 written recommendation that Plaintiff be single-celled to protect him from "contagious 12 diseases and immune-compromising viruses in the illegally celled scheme." Id. Plaintiff 13 submitted a reasonable accommodation request, which was denied at a meeting on May 14 25, 2017. Id. at 4.

15 Three years later, after the onset of Covid-19 virus in March 2020, Plaintiff filed a 16 second reasonable accommodation request on April 9, 2020. Id. at 4, 6. The request was 17 denied by the "Reasonable Accommodation Response Panel," which was comprised of the 18 following: S.R. Albritton (ADA Coordinator); Dr. S. Garrigan (Chief Physician); Dr, 19 Sandler (Psychologist-Clinical (CF)); A. Maxfield (Correctional II Appeals Coordinator); 20 and Nicole Smith (Staff Service Analyst). Id. at 4-5. Plaintiff claims that all the 21 defendants were informed "about the dangers of serious health hazards by viruses and 22 diseases in the close quarters of the one-man-cells, containing the over-crowded two men 23 in a cell." Id. at 6. Plaintiff claims that this situation "then turned to tragedy" when 24 dozens of unvaccinated and untested infected inmates were transferred to SQSP. Id.
25 Plaintiff claims that a few days after the first inmates were found to be infected, a few 26 dozen were transferred into single-cells and forced to double-cell; Plaintiff was "doubled-27 up" and infected in June 2020. Id. Plaintiff seeks injunctive relief to be single-celled for

1 his medical safety and damages. Id. The Court liberally construed the allegations as 2 stating an Eighth Amendment claim. Dkt. No. 22 at 2-3.

3 II. Motion to Dismiss

4 Failure to state a claim is grounds for dismissal under Rule 12(b)(6). Dismissal for 5 failure to state a claim is a ruling on a question of law. See Parks School of Business, Inc., 6 v. Symington, 51 F.3d 1480, 1483 (9th Cir. 1995). “The issue is not whether plaintiff will 7 ultimately prevail, but whether he is entitled to offer evidence to support his claim.” Usher
8 v. City of Los Angeles, 828 F.2d 556, 561 (9th Cir. 1987).

9 “While a complaint attacked by a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss does not need 10 detailed factual allegations, . . . a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the ‘grounds of his 11 ‘entitle[ment] to relief’ requires more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic 12 recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.... Factual allegations must be 13 enough to raise a right to relief above the speculative level.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v.
14 Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 553-56 (2007) (citations omitted). A motion to dismiss should be 15 granted if the complaint does not proffer “enough facts to state a claim for relief that is 16 plausible on its face.” Id. at 570. To state a claim that is plausible on its face, a plaintiff 17 must allege facts that “allow[] the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant 18 is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). From 19 these decisions, the following “two principles” arise: “First to be entitled to the 20 presumption of truth, allegations in a complaint or counterclaim may not simply recite the 21 elements of a cause of action but must contain sufficient allegations of underlying facts to 22 give fair notice and to enable the opposing party to defend itself effectively. Second, the 23 factual allegations that are taken as true must plausibly suggest an entitlement to relief, 24 such that it is not unfair to require the opposing party to be subjected to the expense of 25 discovery and continued litigation.” Starr v. Baca, 652 F.3d 1202, 1216 (9th Cir. 2011).

26 Review is limited to the contents of the complaint, see Clegg v. Cult Awareness 27 Network, 18 F.3d 752, 754-55 (9th Cir. 1994), including documents physically attached to

1 the complaint or documents the complaint necessarily relies on and whose authenticity is 2 not contested. See Lee v. County of Los Angeles, 250 F.3d 668, 688 (9th Cir. 2001). In 3 addition, the court may take judicial notice of facts that are not subject to reasonable 4 dispute. See id. at 688 (discussing Fed. R. Evid. 201(b)). Allegations of fact in the 5 complaint must be taken as true and construed in the light most favorable to the non-6 moving party. See Symington, 51 F.3d at 1484.

7 On the other hand, a plaintiff may plead himself out of a claim by including 8 unnecessary details contrary to his claims. Sprewell v. Golden State Warriors, 266 F.3d
9 979, 988 (9th Cir. 2001). A court, for example, is not required to accept as true conclusory 10 allegations which are contradicted by documents referred to in the complaint. Bell Atlantic 11 Corp., 550 U.S. at 555; Steckman v. Hart Brewing, Inc., 143 F.3d 1293, 1295-96 (9th Cir.
12 1998). After all, “conclusory allegations without more are insufficient to defeat a motion 13 to dismiss for failure to state a claim.” McGlinchy v. Shell Chemical Co., 845 F.2d 802, 14 810 (9th Cir. 1988). A court “is not required to accept legal conclusions cast in the form of 15 factual allegations if those conclusions cannot reasonably be drawn from the facts 16 alleged.” Clegg, 18 F.3d at 754-55.

17 Qualified immunity may be raised in a Rule 12(b)(6) motion and granted where 18 defendants are entitled to the defense based on plaintiff’s allegations. Cousins v. Lockyer, 19 568 F.3d 1063, 1071 (9th Cir. 2009).

20 A. Eighth Amendment Deliberate Indifference

21 The Constitution does not mandate comfortable prisons, but neither does it permit 22 inhumane ones. See Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 832 (1994). The treatment a 23 prisoner receives in prison and the conditions under which he is confined are subject to 24 scrutiny under the Eighth Amendment. See Helling v. McKinney, 509 U.S. 25, 31 (1993).
25 The Amendment imposes duties on these officials, who must provide all prisoners with the 26 basic necessities of life such as food, clothing, shelter, sanitation, medical care and 27 personal safety. See Farmer, 511 U.S. at 832; DeShaney v. Winnebago County Dep’t of

1 Social Servs., 489 U.S. 189, 199-200 (1989). A prison official violates the Eighth 2 Amendment when two requirements are met: (1) the deprivation alleged must be,
3 objectively, sufficiently serious, Farmer, 511 U.S. at 834 (citing Wilson v. Seiter, 501 U.S.
4 294, 298 (1991)), and (2) the prison official possesses a sufficiently culpable state of mind, 5 id. (citing Wilson, 501 U.S. at 297).

6 A prison official is deliberately indifferent if he or she knows that a prisoner faces a 7 substantial risk of serious harm and disregards that risk by failing to take reasonable steps 8 to abate it. Farmer at 837. The prison official must not only “be aware of facts from 9 which the inference could be drawn that a substantial risk of serious harm exists,” but 10 “must also draw the inference.” Id. If a prison official should have been aware of the risk, 11 but did not actually know, the official has not violated the Eighth Amendment, no matter 12 how severe the risk. Gibson v. County of Washoe, 290 F.3d 1175, 1188 (9th Cir. 2002).

13 Defendants first argue that Plaintiff fails to state a claim for deliberate indifference 14 because he does not allege that Defendants knew at the time that double-celling alone 15 posed a substantial risk of serious harm. Dkt. No. 30 at 11. Defendants assert that 16 Plaintiff does not allege that they knew maintaining the status quo, i.e., double-celling, 17 would create an excessive risk of his catching Covid-19 at the time Defendants denied the 18 request. Defendants point out that Plaintiff claims he requested single-cell housing on 19 April 9, 2020, and that a similar request was denied in 2017. Id., citing SAC at 4.
20 Defendants also assert that Plaintiff does not allege harm that resulted from the 2020 21 denial, nor any changes to his condition after the first denial, that would put Defendants on 22 notice that Plaintiff needed isolation. Id. at 12. Defendants argue that Plaintiff claims his 23 second request was denied at some time before the transfer of inmates into the institution 24 that allegedly caused the outbreak. Id. Defendants assert that in the absence of any known 25 outbreak, Plaintiff does not specify how the decision to allow him to be quarantined with a 26 cellmate posed a substantial, rather than merely theoretical, risk, or that Defendants would 27 have had reason to know of any such risk. Id. Defendants assert that at the time of their 28

1 decision, Plaintiff does not contend there were “conditions posing a substantial risk of 2 serious harm” within the institution, but that rather, he appears to indicate such conditions 3 were a transfer of inmates that occurred after Defendants reached their decision. Id.

4 Second, Defendants argue that Plaintiff fails to allege sufficient injury or causation
5 to state an Eighth Amendment claim. Dkt. No. 30 at 13. Specifically, Defendants assert 6 that Plaintiff does not contend that he was infected as a result of being housed with an 7 infected cellmate, or that he suffered any symptoms from his alleged infection or other ill-8 effects arising in the two-and-a-half years since his test. Id. Defendants state that in other 9 words, Plaintiff does not provide any facts upon which to conclude that his Covid test was 10 anything more than a false positive, or a positive test with no symptoms. Id. Defendants 11 assert that courts have dismissed claims complaining of exposure to Covid-19 where the 12 exposure did not result in any actual injury. Id., citing Pinson v. Othon, No. 20-cv-168-13 TUC-RM, 2021 WL 1056391, at *2-3 (D. Ariz. Mar. 19, 2021) (dismissing claim alleging 14 past deficiencies in Covid-19 precautions where prisoner did not allege any tangible 15 resulting harm); see also Ramos v. California Dep’t of Corr. and Rehab., No. 2:22-cv-16 0004-DB, 2022 WL 4292379, at *3 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 16, 2022) (finding stand-alone claim 17 of mere Covid-19 infection insufficient to state claim where prisoner was asymptomatic 18 and did not suffer actual harm in the form of physical injury due to housing placement); 19 Thomas v. Chu, 2020 WL 5408944, at *8-9 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 9, 2020) (dismissing claim 20 requesting single-cell due to vulnerable medical condition where prisoner did not allege 21 any physical harm resulting from his fear of infection). As in these cases, Defendants 22 assert Plaintiff contends that he tested positive for Covid-19 but makes no allegation that 23 he suffered any symptoms or other physical injury, even temporarily. Dkt. No. 30 at 14.

24 Lastly, Defendants assert that Plaintiff also fails to allege that Defendants’ actions 25 caused his injury, i.e., their denial of his request for a single cell in April 2020 caused his 26 alleged infection. Dkt. No. 30 at 15. Defendants contend that Plaintiff does not specify 27 whether it was his housing status, the transfer of inmates from San Quentin, or general

1 community spread that caused his positive Covid-19 test, and therefore fails to state a 2 causal connection. Id., citing Johnson v. Allison, No. 2:21-cv-0828 KJN P, 2022 WL
3 1444409, *9 (E.D. Cal. May 6, 2022) (finding plaintiff failed to set forth facts 4 demonstrating that he became infected with Covid-19 as result of his housing rather than 5 as a result of being previously exposed to Covid-19); see also Ramos, 2022 WL 4292379, 6 at *3 (dismissing claim where allegations did not directly allege prisoner's infection came 7 from his cellmate).

8 In opposition, Plaintiff asserts that Defendants' failure to act on their knowledge of 9 his serious medical condition and the recommendations of the cancer-oncologist specialist 10 violated his Eighth Amendment rights. Dkt. No. 35 at 4. Plaintiff asserts that the Covid-11 19 virus was found at San Quentin on March 27, 2020. Id. at 5. Plaintiff submitted his 12 second request for a "reasonable accommodation" cell on April 9, 2020, and was again 13 denied "with no mention nor concern for [his] health." Id. at 6. Plaintiff asserts that on 14 May 23, 2020, he had a parole board hearing during which an unidentified "board-member" 15 "made a snide remark about an attack by gang Hispanic inmates on [Plaintiff] in 1994."
16 Id. Plaintiff asserts that four days later, an inmate with clear signs of infection (profuse 17 sweating and complaining of loss of taste) was moved into his cell; this inmate came from 18 the block where the transferred inmates from Chino were housed. Id. Plaintiff was tested 19 a week or two later and tested positive. Id. Plaintiff states that he had no visible 20 symptoms at first, but a routine blood pressure check showed "200 over 150" which has 21 taken over a year for it to come down to reasonable levels. Id. Plaintiff also claims 22 experiencing a slow "thought pattern," general malaise, and weakened legs. Id. at 7.
23 Plaintiff cites to a consolidated civil lawsuit in Marin County regarding the transfer of 24 infected inmates to SQSP and the court's ruling in that matter, finding prison officials had 25 violated petitioners' constitutional rights. Id. at 7-8. Plaintiff asserts that he remains 26 vulnerable to the health risks of Covid-19 due to his ongoing medical conditions. Id. at 8.

27 In reply, Defendant asserts that Plaintiff's opposition introduces new facts that

1 cannot be considered in deciding their motion to dismiss. Dkt. No. 38 at 1. Defendants 2 also assert that even if the Court considered the new facts to determine whether leave to 3 amend should be granted, those new facts confirm that the SAC should be dismissed, leave 4 to amend would be futile, and Defendants are entitled to qualified immunity. Id. at 1-2.
5 For example, Defendants point out that Plaintiff provides evidence that Defendants, as 6 members of a Reasonable Accommodation Panel, denied his request for single-cell on 7 May 7, 2020, which was several weeks before the Covid-19 outbreak at SQSP following 8 the transfer of inmates from Chino. Id. at 2. Defendants assert that this evidence indicates 9 that when Defendants denied Plaintiff's request for single-cell status, they were only aware 10 of a generalized risk of harm to Plaintiff, not a substantial one as required by the Eighth 11 Amendment. Id. Defendants assert that the extra-record evidence also shows that 12 Defendants examined Plaintiff's request for single-cell status from the perspective of 13 whether an accommodation for his physical disability was required under the Armstrong
14 Remedial Plan or the ADA, and not whether single-cell status was medically necessary.
15 Id., citing Dkt. No. 35 at 42. Furthermore, Defendants specifically informed Plaintiff that 16 they deferred to healthcare staff as to whether he should be single-celled based on his 17 reported medical conditions. Id. Defendants assert that they therefore acted reasonably to 18 the risk of harm to Plaintiff. Id. Moreover, Defendants point out that the evidence 19 confirms that Plaintiff's Covid-19 infection had resolved, id. at 49, the healthcare staff has 20 been closely monitoring his medical condition and providing appropriate care, id. at 55-56, 21 and that in September 2020, his hematologist and oncologist noted that Plaintiff 22 "continued to do extremely well" and his "blood counts continued to be excellent...," id. at 23 56. Defendants assert that these facts undermine Plaintiff's claim that Defendants caused 24 him any discernible harm. Dkt. No. 38 at 2.

25 Defendants also assert that Plaintiff's opposition does not defend the SAC or even 26 contend that the allegations therein are sufficient to state a claim. Id. at 2-3. Defendants 27 assert that Plaintiff instead relies on new allegations and exhibits to oppose their motion,

1 and that by doing so, he is implicitly conceding that the SAC fails to state a claim. Id. at 3.
2 Defendants conclude that the issue then boils down to whether leave to amend should be 3 granted based on the new allegations and exhibits. Id. Defendants conclude that their 4 motion should be granted, and that leave to amend should not be granted. Id.

5 After carefully reviewing the SAC, the supporting documents, and the pleadings, 6 the Court finds the SAC fails to state an Eighth Amendment claim against Defendants 7 based on their denial of his request for single-cell status as asserted in Defendants' motion.
8 Although the Court liberally construed the allegations as stating an Eighth Amendment 9 claim, Defendants have persuasively pointed out the pleading deficiencies, i.e., the lack of 10 Defendants' awareness of an excessive risk to Plaintiff at the time they denied his request 11 for a single-cell, the lack of any injury, and failure to establish causation. See supra at 5-7.
12 Furthermore, in opposition, Plaintiff does not defend the allegations in the SAC but raises 13 new allegations with new evidence. See supra at 7; Dkt. No. 35. In other words, Plaintiff 14 has failed to argue that the factual allegations in the SAC, taken as true, are sufficient to 15 plausibly suggest an entitlement to relief. See Starr, 652 F.3d at 1216. The fact that 16 Plaintiff instead offers additional allegations and evidence indicates a concession that the 17 SAC is not sufficient. Accordingly, Defendants' motion to dismiss the SAC for failure to 18 state a claim for relief should be granted.

19 The only issue, as Defendants contend, is whether the dismissal should be with 20 leave to amend. A party may amend its pleading only with the opposing party's written 21 consent or the court's leave; leave should be freely given when justice so requires. Fed. R.
22 Civ. P. 15(a)(2). Leave need not be granted where the amendment of the complaint would 23 cause the opposing party undue prejudice, is sought in bad faith, constitutes an exercise in 24 futility, or creates undue delay. See Janicki Logging Co. v. Mateer, 42 F.3d 561, 566 (9th 25 Cir. 1994); Roberts v. Arizona Bd. of Regents, 661 F.2d 796, 798 (9th Cir. 1981). A 26 district court's discretion to deny leave to amend is particularly broad where the plaintiff 27 has previously filed an amended complaint. Wagh v. Metris Direct, Inc., 363 F.3d 821,

1 830 (9th Cir. 2003); Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1261 (9th Cir. 1992). A district 2 court should deny leave to amend on futility grounds if “it appears beyond doubt that the 3 plaintiff’s proposed amended complaint would not remedy the deficiencies in the previous 4 complaint.” Adam v. Hawaii, 235 F.3d 1160, 1164 (9th Cir. 2001). Put differently, futility 5 of amendment frequently means that it is not factually possible for plaintiff to amend the 6 complaint so as to cure the deficiencies. Schmier v. United States Court of Appeals, 279
7 F.3d 817, 824 (9th Cir. 2002).

8 The Court finds that based on the new allegations and evidence included in 9 Plaintiff’s opposition, leave to amend should be granted after construing the facts and 10 inferences in the light most favorable to Plaintiff. There is no dispute that Plaintiff had 11 serious medical issues that existed before the Covid-19 epidemic, that he had requested 12 single-cell status in 2017 and again in April 2020, and that the requests were denied.
13 Furthermore, Plaintiff’s allegation that Covid was found at SQSP on March 27, 2020, is 14 based on a memorandum from the Warden notifying inmates that “a member of our staff 15 has tested positive” and that the prison was working to keep the “entire CDCR Community 16 safe and well.” Dkt. No. 35 at 30. Construing the allegations in the light most favorable to 17 Plaintiff, this memorandum is sufficient to establish the inference that Defendants were 18 made aware of a serious risk of harm to Plaintiff which had not previously existed.
19 Accordingly, Plaintiff has plausibly alleged that Defendants acted with deliberate 20 indifference when they failed to take reasonable steps to abate that risk when they denied 21 his renewed request for single-cell status. Moreover, Plaintiff’s new allegations indicate 22 that four days after his parole hearing on May 23, 2020, an infected inmate from the block 23 “the inmates were housed in from Chino was moved into [his] cell.” Dkt. No. 35 at 6.
24 This would be around the time that infected inmates from Chino arrived at SQSP at the end
25 of May 2020. Construing the facts in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, he has plausibly 26 alleged that Defendants’ failure to grant him single-cell status was the cause of Plaintiff 27 getting infected with Covid-19.

1 Defendants also argue that Plaintiff's new allegations regarding ongoing harm
2 caused by Covid-19 are contradicted by the evidence he attaches to his opposition.
3 However, the Court does not agree that such evidence establishes that Plaintiff cannot state
4 a claim if granted leave to amend. For example, the evidence indicates that in September 5 2020, months after the SQSP outbreak, his oncologist noted that Plaintiff "continued to do 6 extremely well" and his "blood counts continued to be excellent." Dkt. No. 35 at 56. But 7 this evidence merely indicates that Plaintiff was doing well in September 2020 with regard 8 to his cancer, and is not evidence that Plaintiff did not suffer when he tested positive for 9 Covid-19 in June 2020. For the same reason, the evidence that Plaintiff's Covid-19 10 infection had "resolved" by the time Plaintiff's grievance had been denied at the final level 11 in November 2020, does not prove that he did not suffer in the preceding months. Id. at 12 49.

13 Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that the SAC fails to state an Eighth 14 Amendment claim of deliberate indifference for Defendants' denial of Plaintiff's request 15 for single-cell status such that Defendants' motion to dismiss should be granted. See 16 Clegg, 18 F.3d at 754-55. However, because the new allegations raised in Plaintiff's 17 opposition indicate that he may be able to amend the claim to cure the deficiencies of the 18 SAC, dismissal shall be with leave to amend.

19 B. Qualified Immunity

20 Defendants also assert that they are entitled to qualified immunity because the law 21 was not clearly established, at the time Defendants denied Plaintiff single-cell housing, that 22 continuing Plaintiff's housing status during a pandemic and without knowledge of an 23 outbreak would violate his Eighth Amendment rights. Dkt. No. 30 at 16.

24 The defense of qualified immunity protects "government officials... from liability 25 for civil damages insofar as their conduct does not violate clearly established statutory or 26 constitutional rights of which a reasonable person would have known." Harlow v.
27 Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800, 818 (1982). The rule of "qualified immunity protects 'all but the 1 plainly incompetent or those who knowingly violate the law.”” Saucier v. Katz, 533 U.S.

2 194, 202 (2001) (quoting Malley v. Briggs, 475 U.S. 335, 341 (1986)). Defendants can 3 have a reasonable, but mistaken, belief about the facts or about what the law requires in 4 any given situation. Id. at 205.

5 A court considering a claim of qualified immunity must consider two questions: (1) 6 whether the plaintiff has alleged the deprivation of an actual constitutional right, and (2) 7 whether such right was clearly established such that it would be clear to a reasonable 8 officer that his conduct was unlawful in the situation he confronted. See Pearson v.
9 Callahan, 555 U.S. 223, 232 (2009) (overruling the sequence of the two-part test that 10 required determining a deprivation first and then deciding whether such right was clearly 11 established, as required by Saucier). The court may exercise its discretion in deciding 12 which prong to address first, in light of the particular circumstances of each case. Id. at 13 236.

14 “[A] right is clearly established only if its contours are sufficiently clear that ‘a 15 reasonable official would understand that what he is doing violates that right.’ In other 16 words, ‘existing precedent must have placed the statutory or constitutional question 17 beyond debate.’” Carroll v. Carman, 574 U.S. 13, 16 (2014) (citations omitted). The 18 inquiry of whether a constitutional right was clearly established must be undertaken in 19 light of the “specific context” of the case, not as a broad general proposition. Saucier, 533 20 U.S. at 202. On the other hand, to define the law in question too narrowly would be to 21 allow defendants to define away all potential claims. See Jackson v. McIntosh, 90 F.3d 22 330, 332 (9th Cir. 1996). Ultimately, however, the dispositive inquiry in determining 23 whether a right is clearly established is whether it would be clear to a reasonable officer 24 that his conduct was unlawful in the situation he confronted. Saucier, 533 U.S. at 202.

25 A court determining whether a right was clearly established looks to “Supreme 26 Court and Ninth Circuit law existing at the time of the alleged act.” Community House, 27 Inc. v. Bieter, 623 F.3d 945, 967 (9th Cir. 2010) (citing Osolinski v. Kane, 92 F.3d 934,

1 936 (9th Cir. 1996)). In the absence of binding precedent, the court may look to all 2 available decisional law, including the law of other circuits and district courts. See 3 Carrillo v. County of Los Angeles, 798 F.3d 1210, 1223 (9th Cir. 2015) (only in absence of 4 decisional authority by Supreme Court or Ninth Circuit are other sources of decisional law, 5 such as out-of-circuit cases, considered).

6 Defendants assert that they are entitled to immunity under the first prong under 7 Saucier because Plaintiff fails to state an Eighth Amendment claim. Dkt. No. 30 at 17.
8 But even if the allegations are sufficient to state such a claim, Defendants assert that they 9 are entitled to immunity under the second prong because neither binding precedent nor a 10 robust consensus of persuasive authority would have put every reasonable official on 11 notice that maintaining Plaintiff's housing status would be unlawful absent a particularized 12 risk to him from double-celling during the Covid-19 pandemic. Id. Defendants assert that 13 the SAC notably does not allege that Defendants denied him single-cell housing after the 14 widely reported Covid-19 outbreak at SQSP. Id. In opposition, Plaintiff does not address 15 Defendants' qualified immunity argument. Dkt. No. 35. In reply, Defendants assert that 16 Plaintiff's opposition cites no "controlling authority" or "a robust consensus of cases of 17 persuasive authority" establishing that Defendants' conduct on May 7, 2020, of denying 18 Plaintiff single-cell status, was unconstitutional. Dkt. No. 38 at 6.

19 Viewing the allegations in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, the Court finds 20 Defendants are not entitled to qualified immunity on the Eighth Amendment claim against 21 them. As discussed above, Plaintiff could allege sufficient facts to state a cognizable 22 Eighth Amendment claim in another amended complaint, see supra at 11, and therefore 23 qualified immunity is not appropriate at this time under the first prong. With regard to the 24 second prong, Defendants assert that there is no clearly established constitutional 25 obligation to house an inmate in a single cell based merely on their vulnerability to a 26 generalized risk of infection due to a cancer diagnosis. Dkt. No. 30 at 19. However, 27 Defendants' claim of qualified immunity relies on too narrow a definition of the clearly

1 established right at issue. Existing precedent clearly establishes the right of an individual 2 in custody to protection from heightened exposure to a serious communicable disease. See
3 Helling v. McKinney, 509 U.S. 25, 33, 113 S.Ct. 2475 (1993) (exposure to inhalants 4 that pose an “unreasonable risk of serious damage to [a prisoner’s] future health” was an 5 Eighth Amendment violation when done with deliberate indifference); Hutto v. Finney, 6 437 U.S. 678, 682 (1978) (“jumbl[ing] together” of mattresses used by prisoners with 7 infectious diseases with other prisoners contributed to Eighth Amendment violating 8 punitive isolation conditions); Parons v. Ryan, 754 F.3d 627, 677 (9th Cir. 2014) (“Since 9 Helling and Farmer, we have repeatedly recognized that prison officials are 10 constitutionally prohibited from being deliberately indifferent to policies and practices that 11 expose inmates to a substantial risk of serious harm”); Andrews v. Cervantes, 493 F.3d 12 1047, 1050 (9th Cir. 2007) (prisoner stated Eighth Amendment claim based on failure to 13 screen for infectious diseases or isolate those with infections). Moreover, an official’s 14 “legal duty need not be litigated and then established disease by disease or injury by 15 injury.” Estate of Clark v. Walker, 865 F.3d 544, 553 (7th Cir. 2017); Maney v. Brown, No.
16 6:20-cv-00570-SB, 2020 WL 7364977 at *5, 2020 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 235447 at *17 (D.
17 Or. Dec. 15, 2020) (denying qualified immunity to prison officials because inmates had “a 18 clearly established constitutional right to protection from a heightened exposure to 19 COVID-19, despite the novelty of the virus”). Based on the state of law at the time, the 20 Court cannot agree that Defendants were not on notice that their conduct might violate the 21 Constitution. Other district courts have also denied qualified immunity for Eighth 22 Amendment claims involving prisoner’s exposure to Covid-19 based on the allegation that 23 prison officials acted with deliberate indifference to heightened exposure of inmates to a 24 serious communicable disease. See, e.g., Fuller v. Amis, No. EDCV 21-127-SSS (AS), 25 2023 WL 3822057, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 13, 2023), report and recommendation adopted, 26 No. 521CV00127SSSAS, 2023 WL 3819181 (C.D. Cal. June 2, 2023); Sams v. California
27 Dep’t of Corr., No. 521CV00493ODWJDE, 2023 WL 4291459, at *11; (C.D. Cal. May 28

1 30, 2023); Fuller v. Houston, No. EDCV 21-127-SSS (AS), 2022 WL 18144179, at *6-7 2 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 14, 2022), report and recommendation adopted, No.
3 EDCV210127SSSAS, 2023 WL 121979 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 6, 2023); Hampton v. California, 4 No. 21-CV-03058-LB, 2022 WL 838122, at *10 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 20, 2022). Accordingly, 5 Defendants' motion to dismiss based on qualified immunity is DENIED without prejudice
6 to Defendant raising the defense at a later stage of the proceedings.

7 C. Official Capacity Claim for Damages

8 Plaintiff seeks monetary relief from Defendants in their individual and official 9 capacities. Dkt. No. 21 at 3-4, 6. Defendants assert that Plaintiff's official-capacity claims 10 for damages are barred by the Eleventh Amendment. Dkt. No. 30 at 20.

11 The Eleventh Amendment to the U.S. Constitution bars a person from suing a state 12 in federal court without the state's consent. See Pennhurst State Sch. & Hosp. v.
13 Halderman, 465 U.S. 89, 98-100 (1984). The U.S. Supreme Court has held that state 14 officials acting in their official capacities are not "persons" under Section 1983 because "a 15 suit against a state official in his or her official capacity is not a suit against the official but 16 rather is a suit against the official's office." See Will v. Mich. Dep't of State Police, 491
17 U.S. 58, 71 (1989). Thus, such a suit is therefore no different from a suit against the state 18 itself. Id.

19 Accordingly, the Eleventh Amendment bars Plaintiff's claims for monetary relief to 20 the extent that they are based on acts by Defendants in their official capacities. See id.; 21 Nesbit v. Dep't of Pub. Safety, Nos 06-16428, 06-16623, 283 Fed. Appx. 531, 533 (9th Cir.
22 2008) (unpublished memorandum disposition) (concluding that the district court properly 23 dismissed prisoners' claims against defendants acting in their official capacities).
24 Defendants' motion to dismiss Plaintiff's damages claims against them in their official 25 capacities is GRANTED, and those claims are DISMISSED with prejudice. Because it is 26 absolutely clear that this jurisdictional bar cannot be cured by further amendment to the 27 complaint, the dismissal of Plaintiff's claims against Defendants in their official capacities

1 is without leave to amend.

2 III. Motion for Injunctive Relief

3 Defendants assert that Plaintiff's request for preliminary injunction should be 4 denied because he fails to demonstrate likelihood of success on the merits, irreparable 5 harm, or that it is in the public interest. Dkt. No. 30 at 20. Plaintiff requested this relief in 6 the SAC, and also in a more recent motion for preliminary injunction. Dkt. No. 42.
7 Defendants filed a motion for an extension of time to file a response to this motion which 8 the Court will deny as unnecessary. Dkt. No. 43.

9 "A preliminary injunction is 'an extraordinary and drastic remedy, one that should 10 not be granted unless the movant, by a clear showing, carries the burden of persuasion.'" Lopez v. Brewer, et al., 680 F.3d 1068, 1072 (9th Cir. 2012) (citation omitted) (emphasis 11 in original). The standard for issuing a TRO is similar to that required for a preliminary 12 injunction. See Los Angeles Unified Sch. Dist. v. United States Dist. Court, 650 F.2d 1004, 13 1008 (9th Cir. 1981) (Ferguson, J., dissenting). "A plaintiff seeking a preliminary 14 injunction must establish that he is likely to succeed on the merits, that he is likely to suffer 15 irreparable harm in the absence of preliminary relief, that the balance of equities tips in his 16 favor, and that an injunction is in the public interest." Winter v. Natural Resources 17 Defense Council, Inc., 555 U.S. 7, 20 (2008).

19 In light of the dismissal of the SAC with leave to amend, the Court agrees that 20 Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate likelihood of success on the merits at this stage of the 21 proceedings. Accordingly, the motion is DENIED without prejudice.

22
23 CONCLUSION

24 For the foregoing reasons, the Court orders as follows:

25 1. Defendants S. Albritton, Dr. S. Garrigan, Dr. Sandler, A. Maxfield, and N.
26 Smith's motion to dismiss the SAC is GRANTED. Dkt. No. 30. However, the dismissal 27 is with leave to amend for Plaintiff to file a third amended complaint that corrects the 1 pleading deficiencies discussed herein.

2 Plaintiff's official capacity claims for damages are DISMISSED with prejudice as 3 barred by Eleventh Amendment immunity. Plaintiff shall not include such claims in the 4 third amended complaint.

5 2. The SAC is DISMISSED with leave to amend. Within twenty-eight (28)
6 days of the date this order is filed, Plaintiff shall file a third amended complaint to 7 correct the deficiencies described above. The third amended complaint must include the 8 caption and civil case number used in this order, Case No. 20-cv-03885 BLF (PR), and the 9 words "THIRD AMENDED COMPLAINT" on the first page. If using the court form 10 complaint, Plaintiff must answer all the questions on the form in order for the action to 11 proceed. The third amended complaint supersedes the original and all subsequent 12 amended complaints, which will be treated thereafter as non-existent. Ramirez v. Cty. Of 13 San Bernardino, 806 F.3d 1002, 1008 (9th Cir. 2015). Consequently, claims not included 14 in the third amended complaint are no longer claims and defendants not named therein are 15 no longer defendants. See Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 1262 (9th Cir.1992).

16 3. Failure to respond in accordance with this order by filing a third 17 amended complaint in the time provided will result in the dismissal with prejudice of 18 this action for failure to state a claim, without further notice to Plaintiff.

19 4. Plaintiff's motion for injunctive relief is DENIED without prejudice. Dkt.
20 No. 42. Defendant's motion for an extension of time is DENIED as moot. Dkt. No. 43.

21 This order terminates Docket Nos. 30, 42, and 43.

22 IT IS SO ORDERED.
